--------------------------------	---

- B. The Initial Registration Fee may be exempt in the following situations, unless there is an exception listed in part IV of this procedure. An exemption reason is required to be selected in the FRVIS system in order to exempt the Initial Registration Fee.
- The person claiming the exemption is not required to complete or sign a Form HSMV 82002 (Rev. 11/04 or later), Initial Registration Fee Exemption Affidavit (unless they are claiming the military exemption). However, an employee of the tax collector's office or license plate agency must complete the form and sign the lower portion verifying the exemption.
- The Initial Registration Fee Exempt Report, Form HSMV 82002 (Rev. 11/04 or later) and supporting documents must be submitted with your daily transaction summary reports. See DMS Procedure TL-62 for further information.

NOTE: Submitting Form HSMV 82002 helps the Quality Review Section to associate the supporting documents with records on the Initial Registration Fee Exempt Report.

1. When applying for an original registration and proof of prior registration is being submitted.
When using a prior registration to exempt the fee, the person claiming the exemption is not required to complete or sign the Form HSMV 82002 (Rev. 11/04 or later), Initial Registration Fee Exemption Affidavit (unless they are claiming the military exemption). However, an employee of the tax collector's office or license plate agency must complete the form and sign the lower portion verifying the exemption.
Select exemption reason of "prior registration" in FRVIS. The license plate number must be entered in the prior registration field in FRVIS. When an override code is required, contact your Help Desk Representative.
2. A Florida license plate is being transferred (or transferred and replaced) to a replacement motor vehicle and the Initial Registration Fee is charged.

EXAMPLE: A license plate was registered on a class code 31 vehicle, then transferred to a registration on a class code 41 vehicle and then the license plate is being transferred back to a registration on a class code 31 vehicle.

When using a prior registration to exempt the fee, the person claiming the exemption is not required to complete or sign the Form HSMV 82002 (Rev. 11/04 or later), Initial Registration Fee Exemption Affidavit (unless they are claiming the military exemption). However, an employee of the tax collector's office or license plate agency must complete the form and sign the lower portion verifying the exemption.

Select exemption reason of "prior registration" in FRVIS. The license plate number must be entered in the prior registration field in FRVIS. When an override code is required, contact your Help Desk Representative.

NOTE: If proof (of prior registration) is supplied that a vehicle in the specified category of vehicles was previously disposed of (although the most recently disposed of vehicle for which the plate was assigned was not in the same specified category), it would be consistent with the intent of the law to allow the exemption. Section 320.072, Florida Statutes, does not specify a time period by which a motor vehicle must be purchased.

The term "immediate family", is defined in Section 657.002(8), Florida Statutes, to mean "parents, children, spouse, or surviving spouse, or any other relative by blood, marriage, or adoption." Therefore, parents, children, spouse, surviving spouse, stepchildren, and any other relative by blood, marriage, or adoption who reside in the same household, are exempt from paying the Initial Registration Fee. The person claiming the exemption is not required to complete or sign the Form HSMV 82002 (Rev. 11/04 or later), Initial Registration Fee Exemption Affidavit (unless they are claiming the military exemption). PROCEDURE# RS-30	SUBJECT: INITIAL REGISTRATION FEE
--------------------------------	---

- C. The following situations are exempt from the Initial Registration Fee, but DO NOT require an exemption reason or form HSMV 82002:
1. The transaction is a registration renewal with an existing Florida license plate record.
 2. A transfer of a Florida Certificate of Title is processed between co-owners. This is to be interpreted to mean that the vehicle was registered in joint ownership and is being transferred to one of the original co-owners shown on the title.
 3. A Florida license plate is being issued on a demonstrator motor vehicle for a manufacturer, factory branch, and factory representative or factory importer.
 4. When a 90-day temporarily employed license plate is issued. Refer to Procedure RS-41.
 5. When an affidavit is submitted by the owner that the registration being transferred is from a vehicle (not disposed of) that is not operational, is in storage, or will not be operated on the streets and highways of this state.
 6. The motor vehicle being registered is owned or exclusively operated by the state, county, municipal, or other governmental entity.
 7. The motor vehicle being registered is a "goat." A "goat" is a motor vehicle designed, constructed, and used principally for the transportation of citrus fruits within citrus groves or for the transportation of crops on farms, and which can also be used for the hauling of associated equipment or supplies, including required sanitary equipment and the towing of farm trailers.
 8. The motor vehicle being registered is owned and operated exclusively for the personal use of an owner who is eligible for one of the following license plates:

DISABLED VETERAN (100%)
MEDAL OF HONOR
SEMINOLE INDIAN
X-SERIES

EX-PRISONER OF WAR
MICCOSUKEE INDIAN
TAIWANESE OFFICIAL

NOTE: Each qualifying disabled veteran can only be issued one tax-free license plate. An additional Disabled Veteran license plate may be issued for regular registration fees. Also, the veteran is NOT eligible to receive the exemption of the Initial Registration Fee when purchasing any license plate in which a base tax is applicable.

PROCEDURE# RS-30	SUBJECT: INITIAL REGISTRATION FEE
--------------------------------	---

IV. EXCEPTIONS TO THE EXEMPTIONS:

The following exceptions to the exemptions (listed in section III. of this procedure) require the payment of the Initial Registration Fee, (even if a Florida license plate has been previously issued):

- A. A motor vehicle is titled/registered in an individual's name and the title is now being transferred to a "Trust" or other legal designation, which makes the owner an entity other than a natural person. The customer (trust) record must be created as a business customer with the TRUST flag marked with an "X" on the Customer Detail Maintenance screen in FRVIS 2000.

NOTE: However, if the trustee provides an affidavit stating the name of the individual who has the beneficial use of the vehicle, they may become the "registrant" by transferring their license plate to the vehicle. The statement of beneficial use MAY be placed on the reverse side of form HSMV 82040 (under "Other" in the "Non-use and Other Certifications" section) in lieu of a separate affidavit, if applicable. In this case the Initial Registration Fee is not required.

- B. A motor vehicle registered in the name of a company, corporation, or any entity other than the natural person is transferred to the owner's individual name. In this instance a title transfer is also required.
- C. When an original registration is processed due to a customer stop (current license plate has expired and cannot be transferred). Refer to RS-50 for customer stops.

NOTE: When a customer stop exists and the current license plate can not be transferred (expired or within the month of expiration), the Initial Registration Fee will be due. If the customer stop is cleared within 90 days and the previous license plate has been transferred to the replacement vehicle, this fee may be refunded. This applies when the replacement vehicle is purchased from a dealership or casual sale.

V. REFUND OF THE INITIAL REGISTRATION FEE:

A refund of the Initial Registration Fee may be granted to the registered owner who within three months after paying such fee, sells, transfers, or otherwise disposes of a private passenger automobile, any truck 5,000 pounds or less or a motor home.

See DMS Procedure RS-65, Refunds for License Plates, Decals or Initial Registration Fees, for refund instructions.

VI. MISCELLANEOUS:

A "Questions and Answers Concerning Initial Registration Fee" page is attached as Exhibit A.

EXHIBIT A

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS CONCERNING INITIAL REGISTRATION FEE

1. QUESTION: (Scenario): A vehicle is owned by 3 people. Two of the owners are signing off their interest on the title to the remaining owner. The owner will be titling the vehicle in only his/her name and purchasing a new license plate. One of the previous owners will be keeping the prior license plate to transfer to his/her recently acquired vehicle. The remaining previous owner is also purchasing a vehicle for which he/she will need a new license plate. Are all three of these owners exempt from the Initial Registration Fee?

ANSWER: The owner keeping the vehicle would be exempt based on s. 320.072 (2)(c), Florida Statutes, since any initial registration resulting from transfer of title between co-owners as provided in 319.22, Florida Statutes, qualifies for exemption. The co-owner, who is keeping the license plate to transfer to another vehicle would also be exempt from the fee based on section 320.072 (2)(b), Florida Statutes, since it was a transfer or exchange of a registration license plate from a motor vehicle that was disposed of to a newly acquired vehicle. The remaining previous owner who acquired a new vehicle and is applying for an original license plate would NOT be exempt from the fee.

2. QUESTION: (Scenario): An owner of a vehicle is deceased; their will is probated and letters of administration are issued naming a personal representative. Can the personal representative (of the estate) title and register the vehicle in their name, as an operation of law and be exempted from the Initial Registration Fee? Do we not need to see the will to verify that the personal representative was given the vehicle in order to exempt their Initial Registration Fee?

ANSWER: The personal representative would be exempt from the Initial Registration Fee based on operation of law. You would need to view a copy of the letters of administration and not a copy of the will.

3. QUESTION: (Scenario): A customer has purchased a vehicle and wishes to transfer their license plate to the acquired vehicle. However, FRVIS shows license plate is on a vehicle that is still in the customer's name. The customer says he/she has sold the vehicle. Do we need a disposal affidavit in order to transfer the license plate to the new vehicle?

ANSWER: The customer must complete a form HSMV 82050, Notice of Sale of Motor vehicle, Mobile Home or Vessel, in order to mark the record as "sold." This will detach the registration from the record. It will also release the customer of any liability concerning the disposed of vehicle. However, an affidavit stating the vehicle has been disposed of is acceptable.

4. QUESTION: Scenario: A towing company holds a public sale (pursuant to s. 713.78, Florida Statutes), in order to sell some motor vehicles for unpaid towing and storage charges. An individual purchases one of the vehicles at the sale and will be applying for title in their name. The towing company did not sell the remaining vehicles and will be titling them in their name and will be applying for a license plate on one of them.

- a. Would the individual that purchased the vehicle at the sale be exempt from the initial registration fee?

ANSWER: No.

- b. Would the towing company be exempt from the Initial Registration Fee when purchasing a license plate for the vehicle(s) being titled in their name?

ANSWER: Yes. The exemption reason would be "operation of law."

- c. If the towing company sells one of the vehicles to an individual (after they are titled in the towing company's name), is that purchaser exempt from the Initial Registration Fee?

ANSWER: No.
